From the letter of Mr. Herbert B. Rust, President of the Company, we summarize as follows:—

BUSINESS: The Utilities Power Company, incorporated under the laws of New Hampshire, will construct a dam across the Pemigewasset river, build a power house, sub-stations and transmission line and sell hydro-electric power to public utilities, municipalities and corporations of central and southern New Hampshire.

PLANT: The dam, 620 feet in length and 50 feet in height, at Ayer's island in the towns of Bristol and New Hampton, New Hampshire, will supply energy for the company's first unit of approximately 7500 h. p., which will be distributed by means of 42 miles of transmission lines and five sub-stations. With additional construction and enlarged pondage ultimate capacity of this development is estimated at approximately 35,000 h. p.

SECURITY: These bonds are secured by a first mortgage on all plants and other properties and property rights now owned or hereafter to be acquired or constructed, which upon completion of the present development will have a replacement value of approximately $900,000. This development, together with undeveloped power sites owned, will give the company a total value in assets in excess of $1,100,000. Series A is limited in amount to $600,000; additional bonds may not be issued until after completion and full payment of the original installation, and then only after compliance with carefully drawn restrictions.

SINKING FUND: A sum equal to one per cent of the total principal amount outstanding at the close of each fiscal year, beginning with 1924, shall be paid to the trustee for redemption of these bonds at not exceeding 107 1/2 and accrued interest.

EARNINGS: The company is assured of a minimum gross income of $120,000 in the first year of operation, and a net income available for interest of two and one third times the interest requirement on this issue. The indicated market should yield within a short time a revenue from operations of twice this amount.

OFFICERS: Officers of the Company are: President, Herbert B. Rust, Meredith; Treasurer, Bertram Blaisdell, Meredith; Clerk, Frank R. Prescott, Meredith; Directors, the foregoing and Ellsworth H. Rollins of Laconia, Clarence N. Merrill of Bristol, Gordon B. Peavey of Ashland, Louis L. Sanborn of Center Harbor, V. C. Bruce Wetmore of Boston, Fred D. Jordan of Richardson, Hill & Co.

WE RECOMMEND THESE BONDS FOR INVESTMENT

Price 95 3/4 and accrued interest to yield 6 3/8 p. c.

Legal details of this issue will be passed upon by Messrs. Putnam, Bell, Dutch & Santry, of Boston, for the lawyers, and titles will be passed upon by legal counsel, Messrs. Marchie & Marchie, of Concord, N. H.

Design, method and execution of the construction of the development will be subject to approval of Messrs. Jackson & Moreland, Consulting Engineers, of Boston.

Bonds are offered for delivery when, as and if issued and received by us and approved by our Counsel. We expect that Temporary Bonds or Interim Receipts of Beacon Trust Company, Boston, will be

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Eastwick of Boston are at A. M. Vittum's.

Mrs. Jennie Davey is quite seriously ill with an abscess under her arm.

Miss Jennie Henshaw is back from Nova Scotia where she spent the summer.

Mrs. Audrey Vittum is visiting friends in Providence, R. I. for a few weeks.

Dr. L. P. Felch and Dr. Carrie Felch of Boston, were at Leverett Felch's over the week end.

Ansel and Eric Berstrom of Somerville, who have been spending a few days at Allen Vittum's, returned home Sunday, carrying with them a fine buck deer which they shot while here.

Mrs. J. F. Harvey is suffering from blood poisoning in her right hand. Dr. Edmund of Tamworth and Mrs. Alice Draper of Rummy are caring for her.

Mrs. W. F. Palmer has moved to Laconia for the winter, that she may be with her son Gordon, who is attending the high school there.

Of Two Evils, Etc.

The wife of a farmer had a tongue that cut like a knife. One day the minister passed the farmstead and noticed the farmer standing calmly in the midst of a heavy downpour of rain. "Why on earth don't you get indoors?" he queried. "Oh, sir, it's all right," replied the farmer. "I'm shivering like the storm. Man, I tell ya it's natchin' outside us what it is inside."

To make the air fresh in a sickroom, dip a sheet in a pail of water to which has been added a small amount of ammonia or Eucalypti. Wring out until almost dry; then hang in front of an open window where there is a gentle breeze.

MEREDITH LOCALS

THE CLUBMAN'S PROGRESS CLUB

The Club met last Tuesday afternoon at the North Church Vestry, the president, Mrs. Emma Ballard, in the chair.

The names of two new members were voted on.

Mrs. Louise Bickford announced that she had been sent to the International College at Springfield. It was voted to send the usual Christmas box to the Orphan's Home at Frank- lin, and there will also be a voluntary offering for the Home, and anyone wishing to contribute is requested to hand same to Mrs. Estes, each member giving as much or as little as she pleases.

It was voted to handle the sale of the Christmas stamps and Mrs. Philbrook, Mrs. Bickford and Mrs. Lane were appointed a committee to look after the sale.

The little Christmas stocking which the club has filled each year will be found on the secretary's desk at the next meeting and all those desiring to put any change in it please do so. The stocking is sent to a child's home in New York, the contributions going toward Christmas gifts.

Seven members expressed their desire and intention to attend the District Conference at Tilton, December 10.

The club voted to accept the invitation of the Center Harbor Woman's Club for Rectory Day, December 1st. Any member who can go to Center Harbor on that occasion is asked to notify Mrs. Louise Bickford.

The Directors would call the attention of all who have formerly belonged to the club, to the fact that plans for Guest Night are under way, and all those who intend to join this year should pay their dues as soon as possible that they may be able to know how much there will be to meet expenses.

After the business meeting, Miss Mary Houston of Plymouth, N. H., gave a most interesting talk about the Hampton Institute of Virginia. This was founded by Geo. Armstrong and is a co-ed college, consisting of the academy and first vocational schools and 2,000 students are enrolled. Miss Houston has been a teacher there for fourteen years, and was therefore, well able to speak of the character and extent of the work accomplished.

Miss Fuller, teacher of music in our local schools, rendered a vocal solo.

Lunch was served by Mrs. Robinson and Mrs. Shaw.

The Annual Social Night will be the evening of December 8th, and the moving picture, "The Rolling Pansy," adapted from Earl Derr Biggers' story in the Saturday Evening Post, with Misses as the star, will be given. Extra tickets may be procured as usual.

SOUTH AHEAD

Consumes More Cotton in Mills
Every Year Than Does
New England

GREAT INCREASE IN CAPITAL

Capital Goes Where It Can Secure
Best Returns and South is Winning

The following special dispatch to the Christian Science Monitor appeared in a recent issue of that newspaper:

Chattanooga, Tenn.—The south is becoming more and more the cotton consuming center of the United States. It is not yet clearly recognized by the mass of the people of the country that the states south of Mason and Dixon's line are now consuming more cotton in their mills than those of the north; yet statistics prove this to be the case, and also that the balance is becoming more and more favorable to the southern mills.

Last year 542,000 bales were used by southern mills, compared with 173,000 bales in the rest of the United States. The total investment in southern cotton mills in 1920 was $50,000,000. Forty years ago (in 1880), it was only $2,574,000. The 180 mills of that day have grown to about 370.

The rise of southern cotton mills is one of the romances of modern industry. And what is more important, it gives evidence of a new era, with an easy possibility of becoming the center of fabrication of cotton for the world.

Great Natural Advantages
Several factors make it likely that the south will become the cotton manufacturing center of the world. Unsurpassed climate, abundant water power, a growing skilled population to man the mills, raw materials close at hand, eliminating long freight hauls—mills in the section have many material advantages. These are being recognized more and more by the manufacturers of other sections.

Many New England mills are moving bodily to southern locations; many others contemplate doing so.

A SAD FATALITY

Meredith Boy Shot While Hunting
on Moultonboro Neck

An unfortunate accident happened in the woods on Moultonboro Neck Monday, when Leland Chase, aged 13, next to the oldest of the family of George Chase, of Meredith, was shot and almost instantly killed. There are nine children in this family and some of them are living with relatives and friends. Leland made his home with the family of Selden A. Knowles on Moultonboro Neck and last Monday he accompanied Charles McCormack on a hunting trip. "The stories differ, but one version reaches the News that the boy raised his head from behind a rock and McCormack thinking it a partridge, fired, shooting the Chase boy in the head.

Remember the Firemen's Ball at Thanksgiving.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Little of Plymouth, are stopping in town for a time before going to St. Petersburg, Florida, for the winter.

Bathurst B. Anderson, Jr., left last Saturday morning for a week's vacation in Boston, Worcester, Auburn, and Blackstone, Mass.

Miss Dorothy V. Lloyd has gone to Somerville, Mass., where she will spend the holiday, returning Sunday, December 3rd.

A little daughter arrived at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Falker, Saturday, November 25th. Weight 6 pounds.

Poultry men of north and central New Hampshire are picking out the best birds in preparation for the Lake City poultry show to be held in the armory, Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday, December 5, 6 and 7, at Laconia. Much interest is shown in this coming event and many new exhibitors will participate. Boys' and Girls' Clubs show their birds this year for the first time, competing for the special prizes offered them.

Next Thursday is Thanksgiving Day by proclamation both of the President of our nation and the Governor of our state. The manner of its observance is advised in the proclamations and the local churches will unite in appropriate exercises. The observance will occur at the North Church at 7:30 o'clock Thursday evening. The exercises have been planned with care and the Pastor will bring a message appropriate to the day. In these days, the deliberate judgment of the best thinkers among the peoples of civilization is convinced that the only path to peace is through the observance of this day.

Mr. and Mrs. William R. Dearborn of New Hampton, celebrated the 50th anniversary of their wedding on Saturday, November 25th. Their neighbors took them for an automobile ride, and when they returned to their home they were welcomed by a large number of friends awaiting them. They were the recipients of a large sum of money from friends and neighbors during the day.

Funeral of David A. Ambrose

The remains of David A. Ambrose were laid away in the cemetery on Plymouth street, last Thursday, Rev. C. C. Libby, pastor of the Advent Church officiating, with C. VanFelt of Boston, Mass., as undertaker.

The pall bearers were Frank J. Robinson, William Kelley, Myron Palmer, and William Wilson.

As the funeral was held last week, Mr. Ambrose died suddenly. He was about twenty in the morning, took a home journey to Clark's mill, and then not feeling well, went to the home of William Kelley. There he became quite sick and in the afternoon Dr. Hawkins was summoned. Later in the evening Dr. Hawkins made a second visit, and his son, Edward, was summoned from Mountbore, about ten o'clock Mr. Ambrose passed away.

He was nearly 81 years of age and was born in Mountbore, but had been identified with the business life of Meredith for many years, as a grocer, an undertaker, and a dealer in furniture and pianos as well as a landlord of many of the tenements and had been an active man.

Miss Elsie A. Gerrish is home from Concord for Thanksgiving.

Doan's Kidney Pills are thousands—Endorsed at home.

Here's convincing testimony from a Meredith woman.

Mrs. Oscar L. Perkins, Lake St. says: "Doan's Kidney Pills have been of great service to me. I have used them on several occasions. I have used them when my back has been lame and sore and when I have had cutting pains in my back. My kidneys acted too freely. I had a few Doan's Kidney Pills and they have at ways relieved the trouble in a short time and regulated my kidneys to normal."

North Church

These are the last days of the canvass for members of the Red Cross. Have you paid for your membership? If not, please come to the North Church and hand your money to Mr. Gupitell.

The annual Thanksgiving Service will be held at the North Church this year. The Music Committee is planning special music, there is generous cooperation on the part of all the churches and the public school, and your attendance is needed to make the occasion complete.

Sunday was the day this Church School brings its annual offering of fruit and vegetables for the City Mission. Considering the fact that the season has not been favorable to the raising of such crops, the offering was surprisingly large. Those who had been garden did not forget to bring cash and quite a little heap of bills and coins accumulated in the plate placed for its reception.

The regular monthly meeting of the Women's Missionary Society was held at the residence of Mrs. Emma Reynolds, Friday afternoon, November 25th. Mrs. Reynolds and Mrs. Jewell acting as hosts. The meeting was held at the home of Mrs. Reynolds, who was the first to vote for Fremont, nearly twenty years ago, was on hand.

If you want Wilson's order in your photograph, please leave your order at your home, and we will call on you.

One of the best known and nicest houses in this section has been laid away. "Roxie," the pretty little maid, died last week of pneumonia. Mrs. Mabel J. Lee, had to be killed recently. This line was nearly 30 years of age and was used for her gentleness. She was born on the farm where she lived, and in May 1923, and in her younger years was fast enough to defeat a well-known horse, but her friends had horses humbly, going her way as a driving horse.

We are doing no soliciting for ads for the twenty-page Christmas number of the News, to be issued December 15. One new merchant has taken a full page and three of our old stand-bys have contracted for one-half page each. We are printing a ten per cent addition to our regular edition and quite a number of extra copies have already been spoken for. There are to be special articles in this issue, with illustrations.

The famous almanac maker, another about "Dixie Park," overlooking Mountbore, Bay still continues describing the evidence of craft on the big lake, and last but not least, the story, "When Sheriff Hanson Beede played Santa Claus. All local features and a number of securing of the year for every household in this section.

The Woman's Progress Club has the Christmas Fairs, and will have six stamps in charge this year, as formerly and plans have been made to send these stamps by mail to responsible people, who if they will not keep them will be requested to return them. They will also be sent to the business places. People who keep the stamps will not be canvassed. The money from the sale of these stamps goes to fight tuberculosis in this state. Wonderful results have been obtained in New Hampshire during the past three years and this district is now under the control of the disease. Many lives have been saved and in 1922 there are ten full time tuberculosis nurses. Thirty children covering the entire state, and 3,800 active and suspicious cases have been put under supervision and treatment. Buy the stamps and help along this fine work in your own state.

Mrs. Melvin Kimball will have a Christmas Sale at her home on Stevens Avenue, Friday, December 15th, from 2 until 9 P. M. There will be hand painted china, crocheted yokes, center pieces, domestic and foreign embroideries, a few pieces of old china and many other things suitable for Christmas gifts. Please remember the date, Friday, December 15th.

CAR SERVICE TO LOWELL FIVE MILES FROM LOWELL

Remember the Firemen's Ball at Thanksgiving.

The Finance will soon make its appearance.

There are rumors of several weddings. Could seemingly to have occurred several young and glowing hearts.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Clough have recently returned from Brunswick, Maine, where they visited their daughter, Mrs. Carl C. Colby. Mr. Colby is teaching Romance Languages in Bowdoin College.

Extensive alterations are being made in the grocery department being re-arranged and a general overhauling along with the removal of merchandise in the various departments. Mr. Jacobs is taking a deep interest in local affairs and a relative of the department.

Mr. and Mrs. Bertram Blaisdel recently returned from Washington, D. C., where they attended the National O. E. S. Convention. There were one thousand accredited delegates in attendance, in addition to thousands who came to look on and see Washington as well in all its autumnal beauty.

Cardinal O'Connell, the distinguished Catholic prelate, who owns a beautiful property just on edge of the Meredith-Center Harbor line, sent a check Tuesday for $25.00 for the Firemen's Sick Benefit Fund. If the boys will only keep well they can have a start for a permanent fund.

The Waist Party at Grange Hall Monday night was the most successful affair of the kind held thus far this winter. Sixteen tables were kept going, the full capacity of the hall, and a fine chicken supper was served to the guests, J. J. Prescott doing the honors. He was tendered a raising vote of thanks for his generous. The next party takes place next Monday night and Manager Ackerman promises to surpass his support. So be on the qui vive as Ellyery carries more surprises about him than a conjuror does tricks.

Old Experiences.

One did not want skating. The creek was about a mile away from home. After I had been skating for some time it began to snow very hard. I thought I would have to leave the branch of the creek to a bridge just a few steps from the house. I skated and skated before finding I had gone down the wrong branch and was about three miles from home. It was a strange experience, I must say—like change.

Business Woman Feared She Had Heart Trouble

"Since Tanlar has overcome a bad case of indigestion and nervousness of three or four years' standing, now, my work here in the store is a pleasure, and I am certainly grateful for the good health it has given me," said Mrs. J. W. Pickens, of 216 E. 10th St., Los Angeles, who owns and operates the book store at 216 Mercantile Place.

"I was so run down that I felt miserable all the time. My sleep was broken and rest, and my appetite was gone. The gas from undigested food caused my heart to palpitate so I thought I had heart trouble. For a time I had a swelling in my legs, too, and it was an effort for me to get about."

"It is wonderful how Tanlar has done me such perfect relief from those troubles. I eat heartily now, sleep like a child at night, and just feel fine all the time."

Gold From the Sea.
This has no reference to the wild plans that have from time to time been exploited for getting gold from sea-water, but it relates to the attempts made in Queensland and New South Wales to recover gold and other precious metals from the sands on the seashore. The treatment of these sands has been undertaken, it would appear, with some promise of success.

Not only gold but platinum and uranium have been found. It is thought that the metals find their way to the strand from submerged rocks which are broken and triturated by the violent waves assailing the coast.

Phones in Turkish Capital.
Telephone service in Constantinople is operated by a British private company. The service is good, and although the number of telephones is now only about 3,000, the people of Constantinople are reported to be acquiring the telephone habit and the business of the company is expected to increase materially. It is necessary that all operators speak both Turkish and French, and many of them speak as many as seven or eight languages.

Thanksgiving

FOR what, and to whom, Thanks should I render,
When I wake on the dawn of Thanksgiving?
For glorious Nature in the morn of its splendor,
For health in the world I'm living!

FOR the sun, "Old Sol," the fire of my days,
The silvery moon and stars of the night,
One warming the earth with its brilliant rays,
All filling the skies with heaven's own light.

FOR the breath I breathe and the winds that blow,
For flowers that bloom, so fragrant and fair,
For what I believe and for what I know,
For fields and forests and birds of the air.

FOR the friends I have and the friends I've had,
For the thoughts I think and the dreams I dream,
For the days gone by when I was a lad,
For this Thanksgiving—this hour supreme!

FOR peaceful America, home of my birth,
A soul acquainted with sorrow and mirth,
For a dear old mother whose hair is white,
Her thoughts of the day, her prayers of the night—
I render thanks to God on high.

RELIGION BASED ON GRATITUDE

Truth in Assertion There Cannot Be the One Without the Other.

Therein Lies the Particular Betterment to All Men in the Devout Feeling and Celebration of Thanksgiving.

"He that gives gratitude pleads the cause of both God and man, for with it we can neither be sociable nor religious," says the pagan philosopher, Seneca. Thanksgiving, then, if it be true, is not only an act of worship, but an influence for social advancement.

Gratitude is said to be the rarest of virtues, yet it exists, and it runs like a golden chain throughout society, binding men together. Nor is it as rare as we are likely from experience and observation to think it is. False gratitude may be eloquent, but it is not easy to express real gratitude in words.

"No metaphysical eye felt the deity of language so much as the grateful," and through that deficiency gratitude is often dumb. Neither is conduct a true test, for circumstances may deny the opportunity of its expression, or conflicting circumstances may prevent its expression when opportunity arises. There is much gratitude in the world, between men and men, for which evidence is lacking, yet there is probably no man who cannot recall a feeling of gratefulness within himself which he never voiced and for which he never received thanks.

Knowing more of our own thoughts and feelings than we do of those of others we are likely to think the quality of gratitude is our peculiar possession, and cynically to agree with Rochefort, could that "gratitude in the general sense of men is only a strong and secret wish to become still greater."

Undoubtedly there is much on the surface to justify that view, but while the quality of real gratitude may vary considerably in its strength there are few if any who are wholly lacking, and the mere consciousness of it makes it a potent force in the social advancement of man. Whether thanksgiving be expressed or withheld it is an influence for betterment, for the feeling toward others is the test of our souls.

But if that is true as between men, is it much more true, and a much more potent influence, between men and God. The sense of gratitude is the measure of devotion. If it is a mere utterance of our peculiar possession, we may see how eloquently worded, reasons a writer in the St. Louis Globe-Democrat. It does not come from the heart; it is a mockery; and the deeper its feeling, even though it be dumb, the closer it brings one to its divine objective.

For post-prandial grace, or half-baked thought as the thankful thought, which in itself is a prayer. It is more than an acknowledgment of benefits; it is an outpouring of spirit, an uplifting of the invisible self into contact with its source, with a consequent enrichment of new strength and new courage. Gratitude, as the old pagan said, is essential to religion. There is no religion where there is no gratitude. And the power of religion is in contact proportion to the sense of thankfulness it inspires. That does not mean that God is great, and that he dispenses charity for the reward of appreciation. He gives because he is good, and giving is the expression of his unending goodness. Thanksgiving, then, if it be true, is not only an act of worship, but an influence for social advancement.

Gratitude is said to be the rarest of virtues, yet it exists, and it runs like a golden chain throughout society, binding men together. Nor is it as rare as we are likely from experience and observation to think it is. False gratitude may be eloquent, but it is not easy to express real gratitude in words.

Constantinople

Aerial View of Constantinople.

The privilege of crossing the Golden Horn. The women, however, indignantly refused, and at both ends of the bridge a constant conflict went on between protesting officials and the women, who slipped by with exclamations of anger.

The collectors did not have the temerity to lay hands on these toll evaders, because Turkish women were for so long a time the exclusive property of their husbands that custom still forbids a man detaining a woman by force in any sort of public argument.

The traditional anecdote that surrounds the person of a Turkish woman had a curious result during the war for the Turks did not dare to search one of them, even though it was known that she carried unlawful messages in her garments.

On both sides of the bridge are docks for small steamers that take commuters back and forth between the Golden Horn and Scutari, the 15 islands of the Bosphorus, and the Princes Islands. At rush hours these efficiently operated boats are so packed as to resemble a New York ferry.
